

Revitalise your sage People System with a technical Adoption Overview

Is your Sage People System running effectively and meeting all your business requirements?

A technical Adoption Overview addresses those Sage People challenges that you've been meaning to resolve:

- Review if your system is addressing your needs and set-up for future demands,
- Enhance your system,
- Take advantage of new functionality,
- Identify and establish a plan to address any additional investment, training, and support needs.

Take advantage of our extensive experience in providing customers with the tools and knowledge to revive your Sage People HR System:

The process:

1. An initial call with a Tugela People HRIS consultant to determine your Sage People priorities and the areas of focus.
2. We will collaboratively review your Sage People system and functionality, determining where there is scope for development.
3. Our HRIS consultant will document the findings and present you with our recommendations, based on your priorities.
4. We can discuss how to take any recommendations forward in the form of a further system health check, scope out an additional project, or provide ongoing support via our Managed Services team.

Temporary Admin Cover

If you require temporary admin support for your Sage People system to cover a short term period of absence due to study leave, parental leave etc, we can provide you with this service. The Managed Services team will provide system support, assist with & work to resolve any system queries, in addition to managing and addressing any questions that are raised directly or via your internal system support mailbox.

System Health Check.

With extensive experience of implementing and supporting Sage People globally, we know what “good” looks like.

This is an opportunity for our expert consultants to take a deep dive into your Sage People system and examine any areas of potential improvement or inconsistencies. From this we will propose corrective actions and suggest enhancements as appropriate. The process looks at your current set-up as well as industry best practice and identifies how to ensure the system meets your changing business needs.

You'll get a full list of recommendations, with proposed actions, to help you bring your system up to optimum effectiveness. This process often highlights training needs, that will help to increase user productivity and employee engagement. As an accredited Sage People training partner, we can also provide this service.

Ongoing Managed Services Support

Having an adequate level of resources with the appropriate requisite skill set is paramount to ensuring the ongoing successful utilisation of your Sage People system.

Managed Services provides this essential assistance, ensuring that your system continues to support your people function and company. We provide a flexible, full-service to meet your ever-changing needs. Whether you require support on day-to-day administration, simple fixes, enhancing existing or using new functionality or complex system configurations, our team of consultants can provide the expertise on how to make Sage People work best for you. We also keep a close eye on trends and upcoming changes that may impact your system.

We act as an extension of your own team, so you can enjoy the benefits of your system with greater flexibility and less expense. And because we understand the people challenges that mid-range companies face, especially high growth companies, we offer solutions that work best for you, your people, and your processes.
